

BORN IN SCOTLAND, RAISED IN JEREZ

NOMAD is the only Outland Whisky® that begins its journey in the cradles of whisky such as Scotland, to finish aging in Jerez, in Sherry Casks in the century-old Gonzalez Byass Wineries, to defy the exceptional and go beyond the rules of whisky.

NOMAD RESERVE 10 YEARS - TRIPLE CASK

Born in Scotland, in barrels that contained Bourbon where it rests for 6 years. Then the liquid travels to Jerez where it will have a double aging: first, 2 years in casks that have previously contained PX and then, 2 more years in casks from the renowned Oloroso Matusalem.

INTENSE COLOUR

It ages in casks previously winened with sherry wines such as Oloroso Matulasem and PX, achieving an intense dark amber color and a balanced alcohol content of 43.1%.

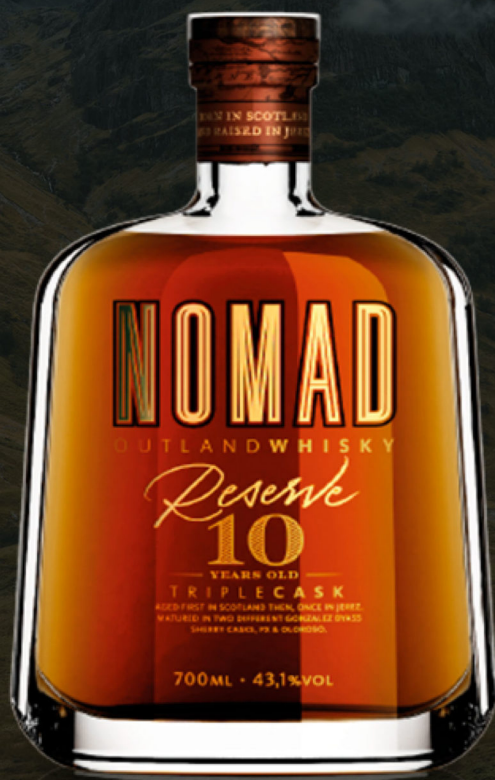

A SENSE OF THE EXCEPTIONAL

Exceptional aromas on the nose, of malt mixed with the wine-like aroma from the Sherry.

Notes of wood, honey, toastiness, nuts, coffee, and vanilla.

Full of flavor and smooth on the palate at the same time, it displays a great variety of subtle flavors - of oak, raisins, and Sherry from the Scotch whisky and the Sherry that was once kept in the casks.

With a long, delicious finish, this is a very special, very high-quality whisky that combines the character of Scottish malt and the elegance of Sherry, come together.
