FALANGHINA

Vesevo is the ancient name of the Volcano Vesuvio that besides being famous for its violent eruptions, through the years returned all it had taken away, making the large surrounding areas particularly favourable soil for vine-growing. Thanks to the richness in minerals of all the soils of volcanic origin, today unique wines are obtained, where elegance, complexity and longevity are detached". Respectful of the genuineness on this wine we have decided to minimize technical intervention, hence any deposits that may be found at the bottle confirm the traditional winemaking principles of the wine.
